From: Financial Times Briefing <FT@emailbriefings.ft.com>
To: ehbarak1@gmail.com
CC:
Date: Tue, 1/13/2015 8:29:18 AM
Subject: In today's FT: Russian and Turkish theoriesfly over Paris, France ...

To view this email as a webpage, click here

Tuesday January 13 2015

UK HOMEPAGE

Russian and Turkish theories fly over Paris

Foreign spy services accused of staging slaughter to defame Islam

France deploys 10,000 troops for security

Opposition leaders raise questions about intelligence lapses

Obama calls for cyber security bill

Legislation proposed ahead of embarrassing tampering of military social media sites

VIDEO

Shire's $5.2bn bet on NPS

Once the prey, now the predator, Shire makes its biggest acquisition by buying the US biotechnology company NPS for $5.2bn. Lex's Oliver Ralph and Robert Armstrong discuss the growing risks mid-sized pharmaceutical groups must take.

US HOMEPAGE

US military Twitter account hacked

Attack on Centcom social media sites by parties claiming links to Isis

US uses big data to crack Medicare fraud

Strike force tackles scams that bleed system of $60bn annually

Alcoa upbeat on auto and plane demand

US aluminium group's quarterly results beat analysts' forecasts

EUROPE HOMEPAGE

Charlie Hebdo to print 3m copies

Post-attack edition depicts Prophet Mohammed on cover

Counter protests dwarf German Pegida rallies

More than 85,000 take to streets against 'anti-Islamisation' marches

Facebook knows you better than your spouse

Research finds 'likes' judge users' emotional needs more accurately than family

ASIA HOMEPAGE

Japanese five-year bond yields hit zero

China's small cities buy up own land

Local governments engage in destructive cycle to prop up property prices

CIMB shares jump on reported scrapping of merger

WORLD NEWS

Syriza turns spotlight on Greek oligarchs

Influence of tycoons is under scrutiny but taming them will not be easy

Violence flares in eastern Ukraine

Upsurge comes as foreign ministers prepare to meet

Nigeria decries muted response to outrages

Campaigners contrast limited international reaction to killings to situation in France

Milan soup kitchen struggles to feed poor

At a volunteer soup kitchen in Milan, Italy's decade-old economic decline is seen in sharp relief

Chinese spymaster detained in graft purge

Probe into counter-intelligence chief may be linked to cases of Zhou Yongkang and Ling Jihua

COMPANIES NEWS

Kaisa confirms missed bond coupon payment

Situation could become test case for managing defaults in China's property sector

Big investors to stick with hedge funds

Withdrawal by Calpers and PFZW not indicative of wider trend, survey suggests

Airbus seeks to add ejectable black boxes

Technology would make flight data and voice recorders easier to recover

Spotify subscription numbers surge

Streaming service sees big rise in users despite Taylor Swift rift over its free tier

GM's Bolt sparks electric car rivalry

'Game-changer' could offer 200-mile battery range for $30,000 price tag

MARKETS

US stocks weak as oil prices fall further

Treasury yields slip but dollar edges up

Lower oil sends Nigeria bond yield higher

Borrowing costs surpass most sub-Saharan African nations and currency is under pressure too

China's Maike says copper set to rebound

Metal still in demand and consumption stronger than data suggest

Surplus fears send oil further below $50

Goldman Sachs cuts 2015 price forecasts

US corn stocks bulge to most on record

USDA counted 11.2bn bushels, up 7 per cent from a year earlier

COMMENT

The fateful choice that faces France

A risk arises that the terrorist attacks will lead to more bitter polarisation

Bland UK politics offers cheery prospect

Intellectual torpor of the election campaign is a sign of Britain's relative success and stability

Japan tests secular stagnation thesis

This year we will see if wages rise, sustainably, as the labour shortage bites, writes Bill Emmott

A moral machine beats a flawed human

Scrutiny of artificial intelligence must challenge ideas about our superiority, says Anjana Ahuja

Bollywood gets bold in an intolerant era

India is producing films that are socially relevant, entertaining and profitable, writes Victor Mallet

MANAGEMENT

Innovative medical design enriches lives

A sensitive overhaul eases stigma of unglamorous health devices

The volunteer spirit that binds teams

What would you do to persuade your staff to work if you could not pay them?

Can saunas enhance your workout?

Warming the muscles and increasing blood volumes can result in greater athletic endurance

Crown Hotel, Juba

Poolside dining in South Sudan's dusty capital

Manage email | Forward this email
Feedback | Manage portfolio
Subscribe to the FT

Follow the FT

Unsubscribe | My Account | RSS | Privacy Policy | About Us | Help

© THE FINANCIAL TIMES LTD 2015

You have received this email because you have signed up from the NBE preference page.

This email was sent by a company owned by Pearson plc, registered office at 80 Strand, London WC2R 0RL.

Registered in England and Wales with company number 53723.